MATHS TUTOR

Is your child underachieving in maths?

It's all about confidence, and I can help!

I really enjoyed helping my own children with maths so I now tutor young people in high school.

I give private lessons in-person or online. Typically a session starts every hour, on the hour, in the afternoon during the week and lasts 50 minutes for maximum attention.

The cost is R300 per session for one student. For a shared session, the cost is R250 per person.

I would love to help your child become a confident maths machine!
